Deeds of Father's Orders

Black, Md., Aug. 9.—At the court of his father, Fred Debold, 170, old son of John Debold, shot and killed George Smith, son of their neighbor, Edward O. Smith, near here, last evening. There had been bad feeling between the two families and yesterday they quarreled over blackberries the Smiths had picked on Debold's land. "I shot him," said Debold to his son, "pointing at the younger Smith. The boy fired a load from a shotgun which struck Smith over the heart, killing him instantly. Both Debolds were arrested this morning and are now in jail here."

Given Up to Die

E. Spiegler, 1204 N. Virginia St. Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and one year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians, who done me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief. After taking the second bottle I was entirely cured."

Not Poetry—Truth.

When a man in search of a home or business location goes to a town and finds everybody full of hope and enthusiasm over the prospects of the place, he too, soon becomes imbued with the same spirit, drives down his stake and goes to work with equal interest.

Sylvia McKinley Dead.

Miss Sylvia McKinley, the seventeen year old daughter of J. B. and Ellen McKinley, was called to her heavenly home Aug. the 3rd 1906. Sylvia was a kind daughter and sister and was respected by all who knew her. She leaves a father, three brothers and four sisters to mourn her loss and a host of friends. Sylvia spent most of her life in sin, but two days before God called her home she professed faith in Christ, and said that she was ready to go, and called the family around the bed and bid them good bye. Weep not dear papa, brothers and sisters for Sylvia has gone to bask in the sun of Heaven. The funeral service was conducted by Bro. Vick Saturday Aug. the 4th at the Phillips grave yard near Gladstone, a large crowd attended. Sleep on sweet Sylvia, take thy rest, God called her home, he thought it best.

Her cousin, Arthur King.

BIRDS OF ILL NATURE.

The Cruelty of Swans as Displayed Toward Other Fowls.

The graceful swan is one of the most ungracious in its ways. Not only (in the breeding season) does a male bird resent the intrusion of a strange gentleman, but it will spend the day in driving off from its domain any unlucky geese which might be plainly assumed to have no designs upon its domestic arrangements and have, indeed, no desire beyond that for a comfortable wash and swim. It will also pursue even the most innocent of newborn ducklings while they unwittingly rejoice in an early taste of their common element.

When an only child has passed out of the cypress stage of life and grown to full physical if not mental maturity father and mother swans have been known to fall upon and deliberately beat it to death with wing and beak. The gratified parents swim gracefully about the mere in which they lived while the great white corpse of their son lay battered and dead upon the shore. The following year, after another had been born to them and in infancy carried upon his mother's back, they began to treat him so roughly that, not being pinioned like them, he wisely flew away, and we saw him no more. Curiously enough, geese which have experienced rudeness from swans in the lusty spring have been known to retaliate in the calmer autumn, when the fierceness of their enemy had become mitigated. I have seen a gander leap upon the back of a once arrogant swan and pound away at it in the full enjoyment of gratified revenge.—Cornhill Magazine.

THE NATIONAL FLAG.

No Possession of a Country More Loyal Loved and Revered.

There is no possession of a country which is more deeply revered, more consistently loved or more loyally supported than its national flag. In our country this is especially true, for in that one emblem are embodied all the principles which our forefathers upheld, all the benefits of a century and a quarter of enlightened progress and all the hope and assurance of a promising future.

The stripes of alternate red and white proclaim the original union of thirteen states to maintain the Declaration of Independence. Its stars, white on a field of blue, proclaim that union of states constituting our national constellation which receives a new star with every state. Thus the stars and stripes signify union and "in union there is strength."

The very colors have a significance. White stands for purity, red for valor and blue for justice, together forming a combination which it is our inherited privilege to honor and uphold. It is not the flag of a king or an emperor or a president. It is the flag of the people, born to being by their will, defended when necessary by their patriotism and to which they turn for protection in time of danger. No matter into what parties our people may be divided, due to political beliefs and leanings, they all stand united under one flag. It is the emblem of unity, safety and faith.—St. Nicholas.

Word Fashions.

The history of the word asparagus shows how, even in the days of dictionaries, word fashions change. In the eighteenth century, even in elegant usage, the delicacy was regularly called "sparrow grass." A dictionary of 1791 says that "sparrow grass" is now so general that "asparagus" has an air of stiffness and pedantry. "Sperage" had been the usual English form in the sixteenth century, but in the seventeenth herbalists brought back the original Greek and Latin spelling "asparagus." Pepys varies between "sparrow grass," "sparagus" and "sparague." No doubt the eighteenth century relapse was the last, and the "a" is back for good now.

Hogs and Storms.

Hogs are always more restless than usual on the approach of bad weather, and when these animals run to and fro with mouthfuls of straw, leaves or branches the indication is for very foul weather. In their native state pigs probably made their own beds, and when bad weather was coming perhaps gathered a larger supply of straw or leaves than usual to serve as a protection against the rain.

Fireworks.

Fireworks originated in the thirteenth century, along with the evolution of powder and cannon. They were first employed by the Florentines, and later the use of fireworks became popular in Rome at the creation of the popes. The first fireworks, which resemble those which we see nowadays, were manufactured by Torre, an Italian artist, and displayed in Paris in 1764.
